

So much government

'So Little Time'

If a government agency proposes something that might affect you, how do you find out?

We have two suggestions but don't try the second one at home.

First flip through these pages and glance at the Public Notices we print. You know we also combine them with notices from all the other newspapers in Arizona in one on-line database that is free, quick, and word searchable to help you be specific about what you want to know.

Or, think about the government entity that might publish it. Could be your city, your county, your school district, or one of more than 80 state agencies. Then there are special taxing districts (do they even have web sites?) How much time do you have?

Legislators are Smart!

They know local publication gives you the opportunity to read notices from all sorts of public and private entities.

Newspapers improved that legislative intelligence almost a decade ago with www.public-noticeads.com/az. No matter where you read your newspaper you also can read public notices important to you.
